IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

NON-SUPPLYING COPY OF INQUIRY REPORT TO ANY PARTY IS A VIOLATION OF POSH ACT:

Ms. X vs. Union of India &Ors. (2025 LLR 131, Supreme Court of India)

In the instant case, the Apex Court held that non-supply of copy of inquiry report is a violation of the provisions of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013. It is mandatory to give the inquiry report under section 13(1) of the POSH Act to all the concerned parties, including the victim.

Issue of the Case:

Whether non-supply of the inquiry by the employer to victim leads to a violation under the POSH Act? Whether such non-supply leads to imposition of fines on the employer under the POSH Act?

IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

Facts of the Case:

The petitioner was a Constable in the Border Security Force, and she made a complaint of sexual harassment against one of the officers, who is not a party in this writ petition.

According to the petitioner, since the BSF had not taken any action on the complaint made by the petitioner, she was constrained to file a writ petition before this Court. In the writ petition, a detailed counter affidavit has been filed. However, the petitioner has not chosen to file any rejoinder affidavit. The matter came to the Inspector General for final approval of the order and a General Security Force was constituted and fresh inquiry was conducted, but this time under the Border Security Force Act, 1968, which held a detailed inquiry and proceedings were held in the matter and finally a punishment was awarded, such as (i) 89 days of rigorous imprisonment in custody, (ii) forfeiture of 5 years of service for the purpose of promotion, and (iii) forfeiture of 5 years of past service for the purpose of pension.

The petitioner, however, is not satisfied with the punishment imposed on the respondent and copy of the Inquiry Report was not supplied to the petitioner under section 13(1) of the Sexual Harassment Act.

IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

Decision of the Supreme Court of India:

The Court analysed that the copy of the inquiry report was not supplied to the Petitioner is an admitted fact. To this extent, there has been a violation of Sexual Harassment Act. Section 13 of the POSH Act reads:

“13. Inquiry report. —(1) On the completion of an inquiry under this Act, the Internal Committee or the Local Committee, as the case may be, shall provide a report of its findings to the employer, or as the case may be, the District Officer within a period of ten days from the date of completion of the inquiry and such report be made available to the concerned parties.”

Inquiry Report ought to have been given to the victim as it is required to be given under section 13(1) to all the “concerned parties”. Petitioner is definitely a concerned party. In case of violation of the same, penalty has to be imposed under section 26 of the Sexual Harassment Act.

On the facts of this case where the Inquiry Report was not been given to the petitioner, there has clearly been a violation of section 13 of the Act and therefore a penalty of Rs. 25,000/- is imposed which will be given to the petitioner by the Border Security Force. Apart from the above lapse, we are of the opinion that punishment in any case has already been given to the concerned employee, which meets the ends of justice. Nothing further needs to be done. IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

PREMISES CARRYING OUT CONSULTANCY SERVICES ARE COVERED UNDER THE AMBIT OF THE ESI ACT:

Employees State Insurance Corporation and Anr. V. Northern India Motion Pictures Association and Ors. (2025 LLR 174, Punjab and Haryana High Court)

In the present case, the Punjab and Haryana High Court held that the premises in which consultancy services are carried out are shops and are covered under the provisions of the ESI Act. A non-profit society, which carries on the business of regulating trade amongst its members, is covered under the ambit of the ESI Act, 1948.

IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

Issue of the case:

Whether, a non-profit society, regulating trade amongst its members, is covered under the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948?

Facts of the case: Appellants are aggrieved of the order dated 31-05-2014 passed by ESI Court, Jalandhar whereby suit filed by the assessee seeking declaration to the effect that the assessee is not covered under the provisions of ESI Act and has been wrongly held liable to pay contribution has been allowed setting aside the impugned recovery.

Counsel for the appellants has drawn attention of this Court to the impugned judgment passed by ESI Court to submit that the case filed by the plaintiffs was tested only on the touchstone of the plaintiff being a factory or not, as contemplated under section 2(12) of the ESI Act. He submits that the judgment passed by the ESI Court cannot be sustained in view of dictum of law laid down by Supreme Court in the case of M/s. Kirloskar Consultants Ltd. v. Employees' State Insurance Corporation, (2001) 1 SCC 57.

IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

The plaintiffs filed petitions seeking declaration that they are not covered under ESI Act, claiming that they are a society registered under Companies Act with no profit motives and they are only into the business of regulating the trade amongst its members. The funds collected are applied for the welfare of the members. ESI Court found that there being no manufacturing activity, plaintiffs are not covered under the definition of 'Factory' as enumerated under section 2(12).

Decision of the Punjab and Haryana High Court:

The High Court observed that ESI Act, 1948 was enacted to provide for benefits to employees in case of sickness, maternity and employment injury and to make provisions for other matters in relation thereto. Comparative reading of section 1(4) and section 1(5) shall lead to the inference that factory and establishments have been used by the legislature in different context and the same connote different meanings. Factories are the one defined under section 2(12) of the Act and the establishments shall connote a class other than factory notified by an appropriate Government in the official gazette to be covered by the provisions of 1948 Act.

IMPORTANT JUDGEMENTS

The issue as to whether the premises in which consultancy services are carried out, is a shop and hence covered by provisions of 1948 Act was dealt by Supreme Court in M/s. Kirloskar Consultants Ltd. The business carried on by the plaintiff is of consultancy services to its customers in respect of industrial, technical, marketing and management activities and preparation of project reports by engaging the services of architects, engineers and other experts. In substance, the nature of activities carried on by the appellant is commercial or economical and would amount to parting with the same at a price.

Therefore, the premises in which consultancy services are carried out is a shop and is covered under the provisions of the ESI Act and a non-profit society, which carries on the business of regulating the trade amongst its members, is covered under the ambit of the ESI Act.

In view of above, the findings recorded by the ESI Court cannot be sustained and are hereby set aside. The appeals are allowed. The matter is remanded back to the ESI Court to decide afresh considering law laid down by Supreme Court in the case of M/s. Kirloskar Consultants Ltd.
